

Some photographers use colour in their work, using a range of different approaches and techniques. Using the starting point of RGB you should take sets of photographs responding to the colours RED, GREEN & BLUE.

Research and make gallery sketchbook pages on the suggested photographers, you should then make a critical link on Boris Mikhailov and take photographs in response to his 'Red' series. All information and resources are on the A+D website.